

Group income protection from MetLife

Drive engagement, wellbeing and loyalty with group income protection from MetLife

Your employees are critically important when it comes to helping your business stand out and succeed. In a fast-changing world, how can you ensure that they feel supported and in turn help them stay loyal to your company? Retaining, as well as attracting, employees makes sound financial sense when you consider that the cost of recruitment is on average 20 to 30% of their first year's salary; add on training costs and don't overlook the risk of the new recruit being a good fit with the team.

How MetLife can help

MetLife, through our customer-focused group income protection solutions and in partnership with your adviser, can help you and your business prepare for the future, perform at its best and protect it and your employees when it's needed most.

How group income protection can help

- Protects your balance sheet and your people. If an employee is ill and unable to work, we pay a replacement salary of up to 80%.
- Employees feel valued and supported. 57%¹ of employees worry about the main wage earner not being able to work; group income protection provides a replacement income so the employee doesn't have to worry about surviving on state benefits. MetLife's research shows that employees that feel supported are significantly more engaged, helping drive productivity and quality.
- Helps engage your employees in wellbeing. All employees get access to our complimentary wellbeing and support services. From help with daily challenges like childcare to complex issues like debt management and mental health support, everyone can benefit. The Wellbeing Hub

Healthy living brings widespread benefits – like fewer staff absences, greater motivation and higher productivity. Our Wellbeing Hub helps your employees achieve and maintain optimum wellbeing.

With 24-hour access to confidential advice and support, it aims to minimise any health risks employees may face.

- Our online portal and mobile app offer access to health assessments as well as support guides and insightful videos
- Employee Assistance Programme – a confidential freephone helpline for employees and their families.

Helps control and minimise sickness absence

Employee absence is not just costly but is disruptive to your business; team members may need to take on extra work at the same time as worrying about a valued colleague's health and recovery. That's where our positive intervention and rehabilitation services are designed to come in. With early engagement, even the most complex potential absences can be understood and therefore managed. To find out more about how we can help, read our leaflet on Early Intervention.
