

The other side of life Insurance

Traditional Life insurance can help take care of finances when someone passes away, but bereavement support can be so much more than that.

That's why we've developed Life & Legacy. It's the other side of life insurance that's there for people in life and for their families in grief.

Our Group Life and Legacy equips employers to offer a unique suite of services, resources, and support for their employees:

- Will Writer: Help with planning and writing a will

- Funeral Adviser: Sensitive, practical and timely support for planning the service and finding the right funeral director
- Bereavement and Probate Counselling and Helpline: For your employees and their loved ones
